WE SHARE THE DREAM OF PEACE

by Sue Riley, David Roth, and Jana Stanfield

Verse

My skin may be, a diff'rent shade, my language not the same
I pray in different places, I call God by different names.
My clothing may not be like yours might stand out in a crowd
But in universal Spirit there are diff'rences allowed

Chorus

We have the precious present and our presence holds the key
To a world that is more loving as we share the dream of peace.
As we share the dream of peace.

Verse

My arms embrace my children I fall in love, I cry.
I marvel at the sunset as another day goes by.
But halfway 'round the world, I know, your rain brings rainbows too
'Though we might seem so diff'rent I am just the same as you

Chorus

Bridge

Imagining the future, remembering the past
Together we can cocreate a vision that will last

Chorus
