

How should the Alarm.com Fire Communicator (ADC-FC100) be tested?

The Alarm.com Fire Communicator should be tested following local and state regulations. In addition to state and local regulations, qualified personnel shall physically check the device once a year. The Fire Communicator shall be tested once a week following the Fire Alarm Control Panel's Weekly System Testing Guidelines, as the FC100 communicator is part of the complete fire alarm signaling system.